SCHOOL FOR EVERYONE

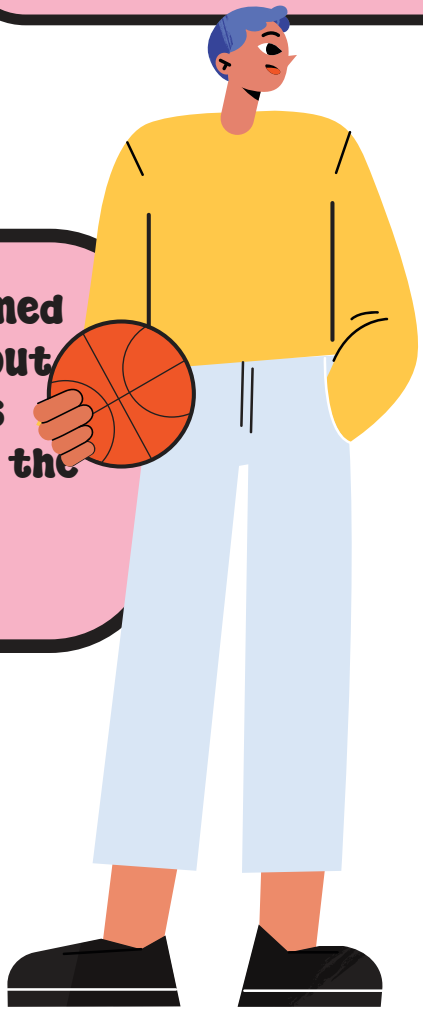

SCENARIO BY CHAMPIONS FACTORY | DESIGN AND LAYOYT 3TA Design

The new school year starts and there are a lot of new students, refugees that moved to an international school.

On the first day of school the students are introduced to their classmates, but most of them feel shy and uncomfortable.

One of the new students named Mark is very passionate about sports. Before leaving his country he was about to join the youth national team in basketball.

During the lunch break he sees a group of boys playing basketball on the pitch. He walks towards them with a smile on his face.

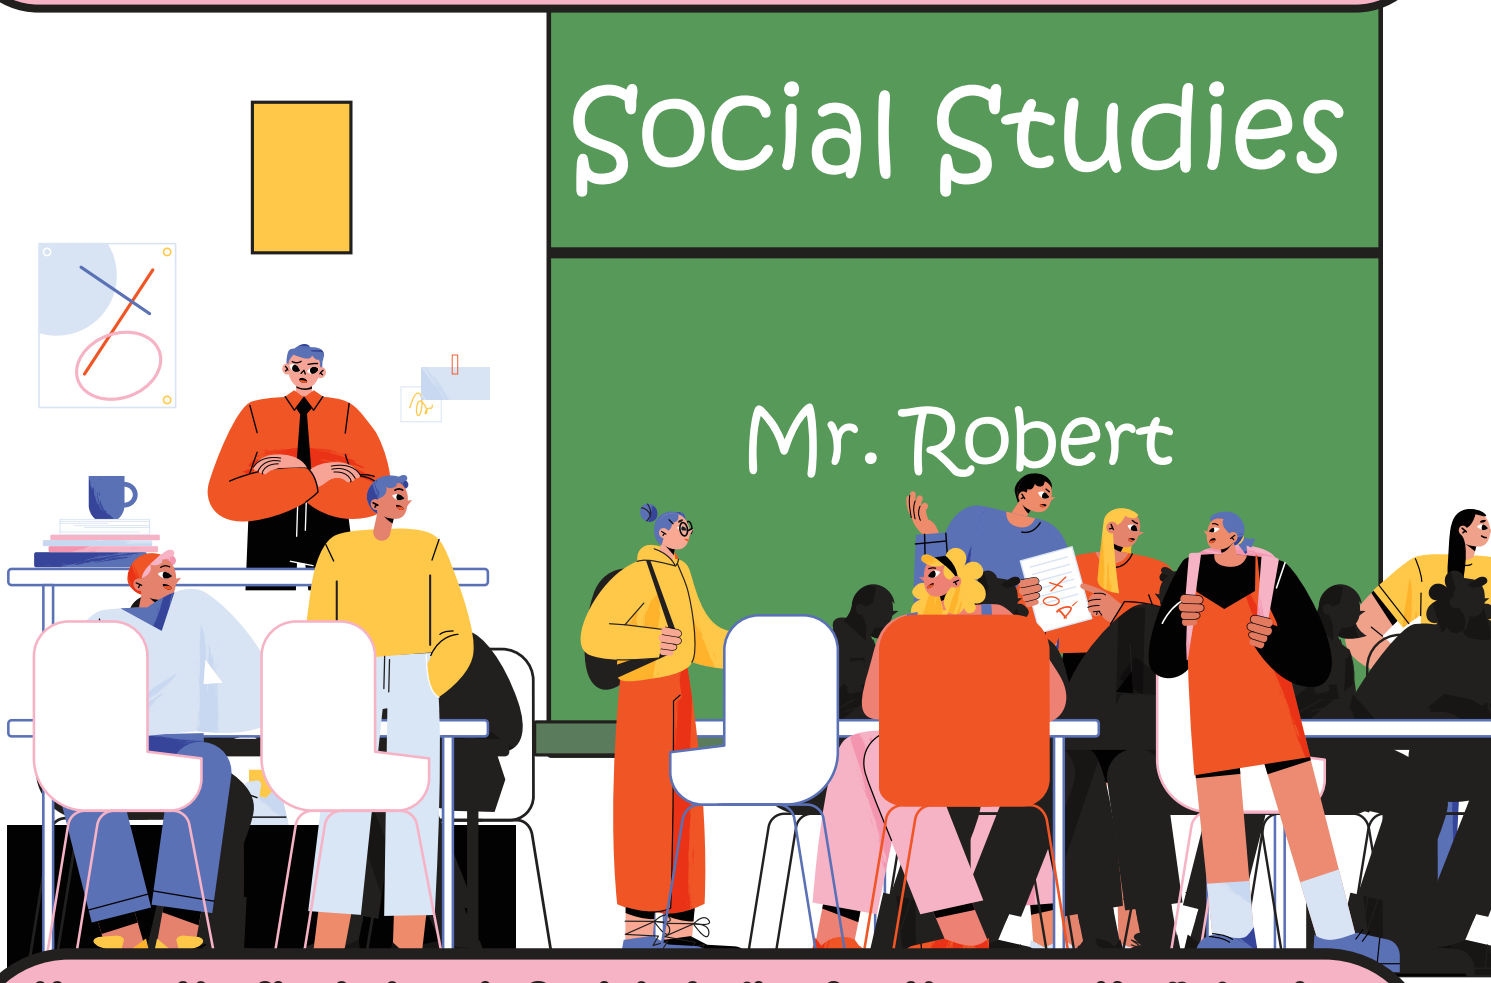

In the moment when he asked to join the game, one of the boys let him play but no one passed the ball to him even a single time. He felt excluded and left the pitch.

At that time the teacher who was supervising the yard - Mr. Robert, observed the situation. He stayed quiet but had something in mind.

In the classroom, everyone sat down and prepared for the class to start.

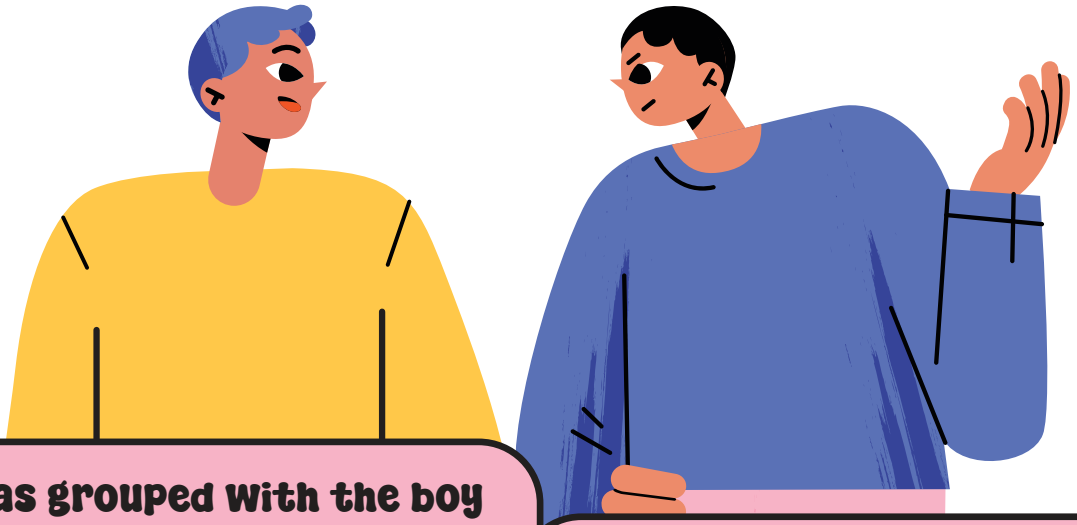

It was the first class in Social Studies for the year. Mr. Robert greeted the class and explained to them that communication skill among people is a key aspect of their personal development. For this reason the teacher invited the class to join him in the school yard for the first activity

IN ORDER TO COMMUNICATE WELL WITH EACH OTHER IT IS IMPORTANT TO KNOW YOUR PARTNER'S STRENGTHS. NOW THE WAY I DIVIDE YOU, YOU WILL HAVE TO TALK WITH YOUR PARTNER AND DECIDE ON YOUR BEST STRATEGY.

The students were divided into teams of two as they had 4 seconds to throw the ball and score in the basketball hoop by collaborating with each other.

Mark was grouped with the boy from the morning. His name was George.

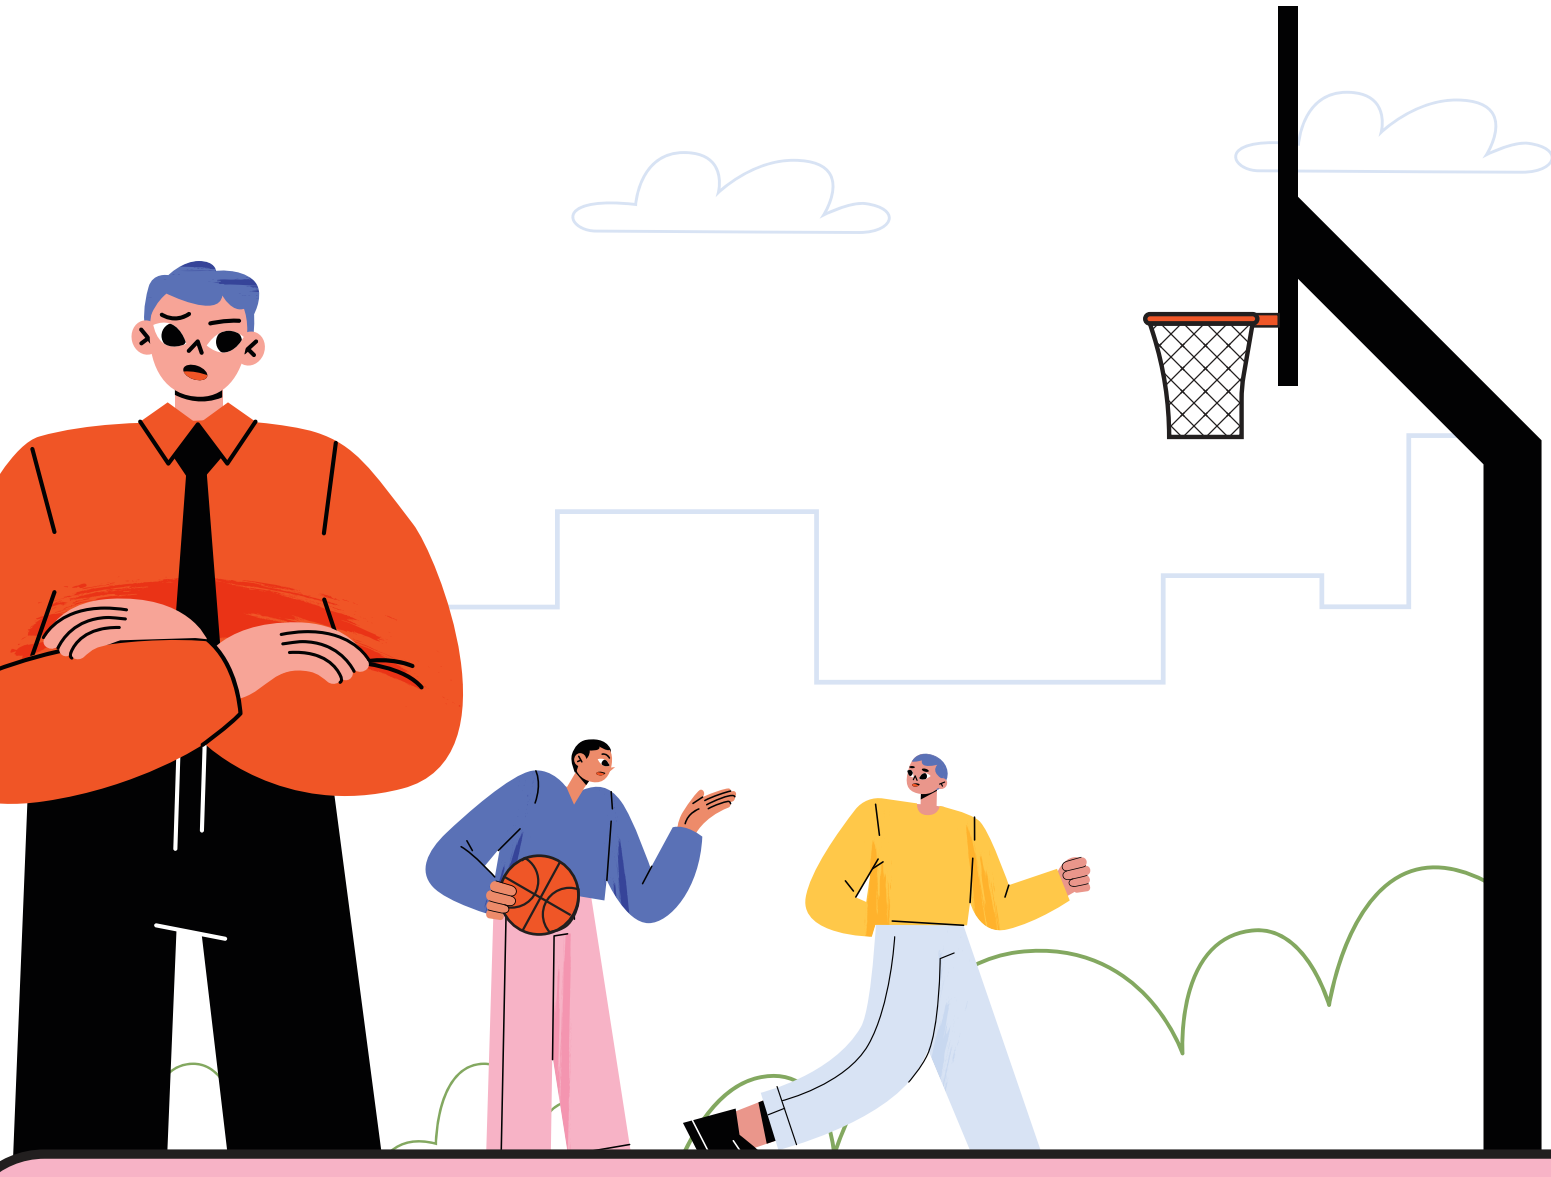

When finding out who was going to be his partner GGeorge looked at him unhappily...

The youngsters had just three minutes to decide on their strategy. George totally ignored everything that Mark suggested he didn't want to listen and he insisted that they follow his strategy only.

YOU SHOULD JUST PASS ME THE BALL AND I WILL DO THE REST!

Mark didn't want to confront him

As the game began the teams started performing one by one.
Mark did exactly what George told him to do, yet George could not score a single point.
He started blaming Mark but their teacher interfered immediately.

INSTEAD OF ARGUING, WHY DON'T YOU TRY ANOTHER STRATEGY..?, CHANGE YOUR PLACES AND TRY AGAIN

Mark knew exactly what to do, he started playing as everyone looked at him, When he was let to lead the game, he felt empowered and even George felt it and got excited.
For the given 45 seconds they managed to score more than four times.

Everyone got very excited and started clapping at the boys. They gave a high five and their teacher greeted them with pride.

"I AM SORRY FOR MY WRONG JUDGMENT.. I SHOULD HAVE LET YOU SHOW ME HOW CAPABLE YOU ARE.. YOU ARE WELCOME TO PLAY WITH US TOMORROW

MR ROBERT, NOW I UNDERSTAND WHY COMMUNICATION WITH MY TEAMMATES IS IMPORTANT FOR THE BEST PERFORMANCE OF THE TEAM! EARLIER TODAY WHEN WE MISTREATED MARK AT THE BASKETBALL PLAY IT WASN'T THE RIGHT THING TO DO. WE ARE SORRY, MARK!

THAT IS RIGHT! I AM HAPPY THAT YOU UNDERSTOOD THAT IT IS NOT IMPORTANT WHERE ARE YOU COMING FROM, BUT HOW CAN YOU CONTRIBUTE TO THE TEAM AND THAT EVERY MEMBER SHOULD BE VALUED EQUALLY.

JOURNEY OF HOPE

...AN ALMOST REAL LIFE STORY

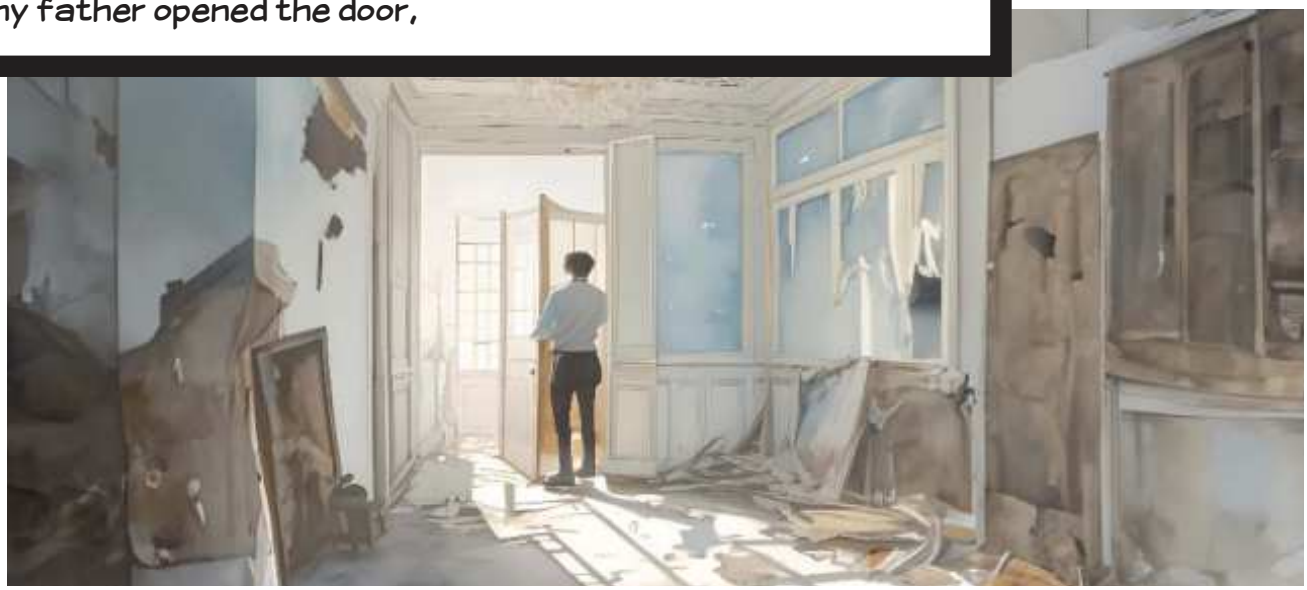

SCENARIO BY KİLİS GENÇLİK VE SPOR İL MÜDÜRLÜĞÜ | DESIGN AND LAYOYT 3TA Design

...March 2011

We woke up in the early morning to the sound of bombs coming out of a tank between two fighting sides.
WO-O-OF
That day instead of bird sounds you could hear people shouting.
The bombs dropped from the tanks targeted people who fell inside the buildings like tree leaves.

Our door was locked from the pressure of the bombs and when my father opened the door,

I was watching people walking on the street being shot by snipers.

That day we were given two hours to get out of the house and save our lives.

That makes us think if they gave us that time to recover or to show us the violence that they had done.

Unfortunately, we came to Turkey with my family because this violence continued.
The only thing I could think of was when this violence would end.
KARDEŞLİK SINIR TABELASI
الأخوان لا يفرقهم الحدود
WELCOME TO TURKEY
TÜRKİYE'YE HOŞGELDİNİZ
اهلا بك في تركيا

Turkey provided us with opportunities.
I am still going to school, and I have learned Turkish. In my free time, I give private lessons and I paint.
Painting is very good for me.
Turkey's Kilis city, which hosts more Syrians than its own population, has been nominated for the Nobel Peace Prize.

Experience the poignant journey of a young girl fleeing conflict to find refuge in Turkey. Through heart-rending visuals, witness her resilience and renewal as she embraces education and art in Kilis, a city known for its compassion and solidarity.

Dreams Smelling Of GUNPOWDER

...A REAL LIFE SCENARIO!

SCENARIO BY KİLİS GENÇLİK VE SPOR İL MÜDÜRLÜĞÜ | DESIGN AND LAYOYT 3TA DESIGN

My name is Mohammed Hannurael,...

...when I was ten years old, the Syrian regime started killing people with fire and acid...

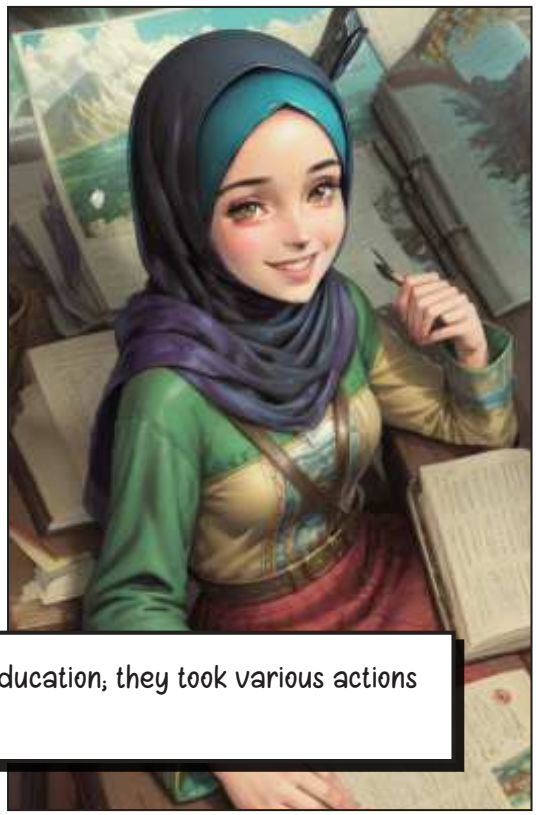

...and my father and my brothers decided to leave Syria for another country.

My mother, grandfather, younger sister, and I settled in Oncupınar camp in Kilis province on the Syrian border.

We were very happy that the older sisters and brothers who always came to the camp...
..with their gifts were thinking of us and that made us feel that we were not alone.
When I was in the camp, I learned judo because my father always wanted me to defend myself.
I participated in the judo competition in Konya.

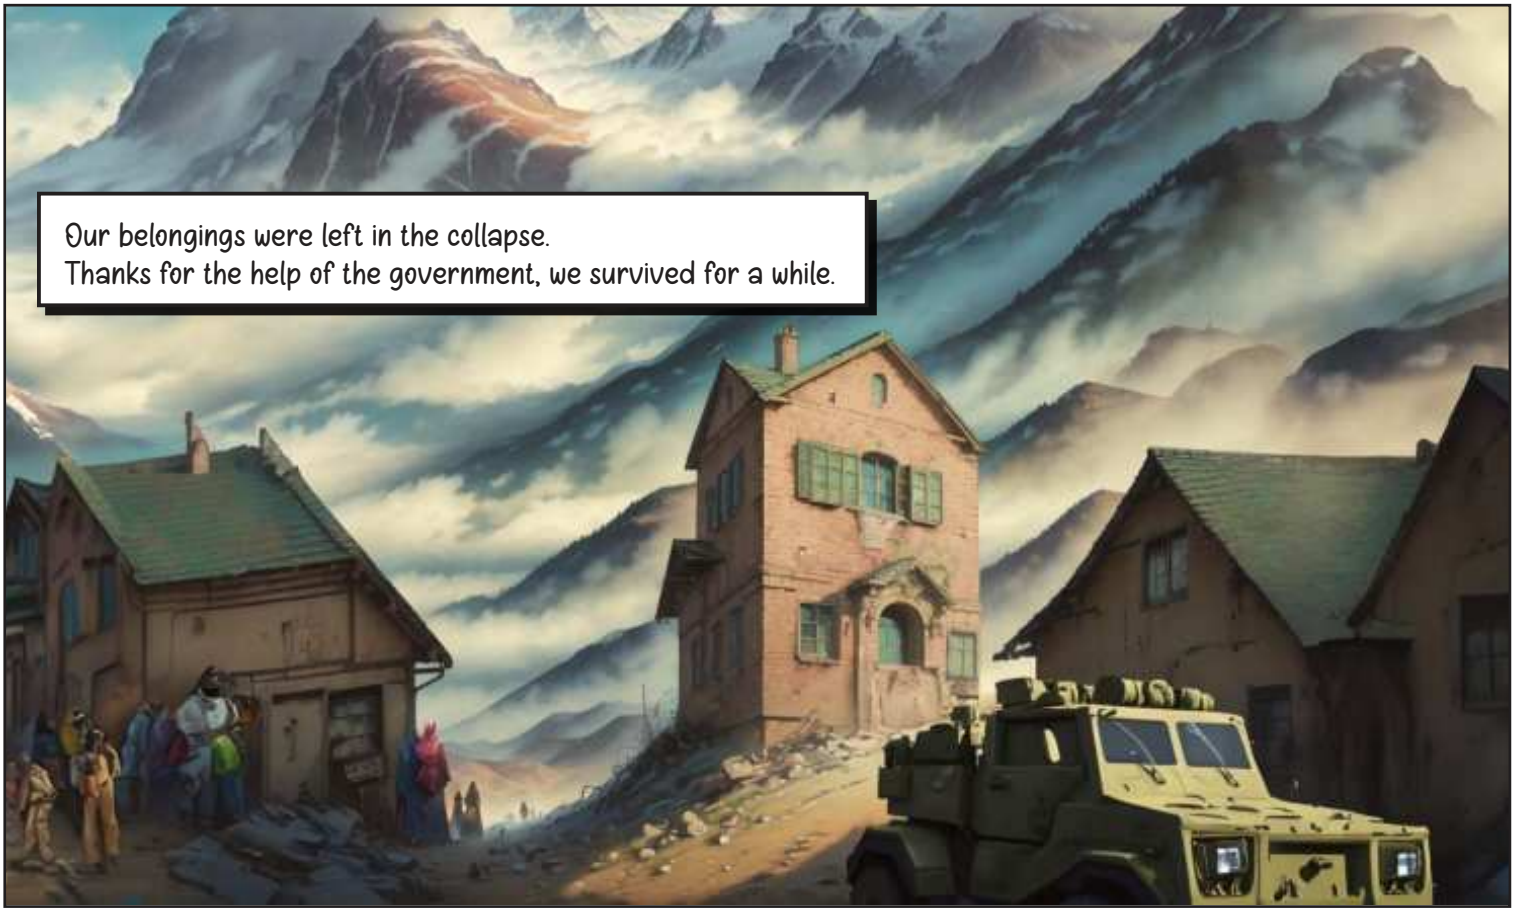

My mother opened her own business with the Turkish government's financial support for free.

They gave us the right to education; they took various actions to alleviate our suffering.

We were trying to live our life normally but...
...unfortunately an earthquake happened...
...which made us wonder...
...if we didn't die in the war,
...were we going to die in the earthquake?

Our belongings were left in the collapse.
Thanks for the help of the government, we survived for a while.

We started everything from zero again.
One year has passed since the earthquake...
...as if it was yesterday
The date: 06th .02 at 04.17 is registered in our memories.

I am now nineteen years old, and I am a first-year university student.
Having social and human rights in Turkey...
... is the most important feeling for us.

Follow Mohammed's journey from fleeing war-torn Syria to finding refuge in Kilis, Turkey. Despite facing war, displacement, and natural disasters, Mohammed and his family find resilience, support, and hope in their new community. Through judo, education, and entrepreneurship, they rebuild their lives, embodying the spirit of perseverance and the transformative power of compassion and inclusion.

Final Word

The journey of Playing Together For a Better Tomorrow has been one of connection, understanding, and hope. Through the power of sport, creativity, and collaboration, we have witnessed how barriers can be broken and bridges built between refugees and host communities. This project has shown that when we come together—regardless of background, language, or experience—we create opportunities for growth, friendship, and mutual respect.

Our comic strips are more than just stories; they are windows into real lives and shared dreams, reminding us that social inclusion is not just a goal but a continuous commitment. As we move forward, we invite all stakeholders—youth workers, educators, community members, and policymakers—to carry this spirit with them and continue fostering environments where everyone belongs.
Let us keep playing, learning, and building a tomorrow where diversity is celebrated and everyone's potential can shine.

Thank you for being part of this journey.
